In 1928, the Congregation of St. Basil founded in Detroit a new high school. It was an institution for the refinement of young men in to a dedicated splendor.

We now celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of Catholic Central High School of Detroit. It has unquestionably achieved, and maybe even surpassed, the goals of its founders. Catholic Central is the gem of the Basilian schools, and a pinnacle among southeastern Michigan high schools.

Catholic Central entails even more than that however. Assuredly, we have distinctions, honors, and accolades from a host of organizations. There is a quality that this school develops that others can not. A quality of dedication to the Catholic Central commitment, only found in such a spirited institution.

When a freshman decides to matriculate to our school, he agrees to this commitment. He makes himself a part of all facets of the school. In return, Catholic Central gives purpose, and a certain strength from the unity of the student body.

Our student body today contains the strengh of sixty years experience. Within it composition lies unity. Each student is separate, yet lends himself to the whole. The whole then gives its members a solid-ness that focuses upon the individuals potential.

Within these men are the keys to Catholic Central. It is found in the efforts and achievements accomplished, the individuals who attempt them, the groups and organizations, and of course its pride and spirit. This combination allows Catholic Central; the Faculty and Administration; its Parent's; and especially those students privileged enough to attend, to proclaim, in our diamond year, we are truly A CUT ABOVE!

OUR DIAMOND ANNIVERSARY

For this, the 60th year of CC's existence, the Shamrock Staff decided to put a special touch on the book. A 16 page historical section of Catholic Central H.S. of Detroit. Hopefully, it will make tangible some of the great past of this institution, and explain why we are "A Cut Above."

Each decade has a spread devoted to it. There are pictures from the yearbooks of that decade, and something written to capture the spirit and the mood of CC at that time. It is the intention of this 60th anniversary section to provide a quick peek at CC's history.

For sixty years the Basilian Fathers of Catholic Central have been instructing young men in matters of math, history, science, and most of all religion. Throughout these years the students have exhibited school spirit unparalleled to any other while living up the school's motto: "Teach me goodness, discipline, and knowledge."

Catholic Central's traditions, spirit, and educational excellence stretch all the way back to its founding. Catholic Central High School as it is known today is the result of the combination of two schools. In 1908, the Sisters of Immaculate Heart of Mary started Rosary Parish High school on Harper Road near Woodward. This school ran for 12 years under the Sisters. Then in the spring of 1928, Monsignor Van Antwerp invited the Basilian Fathers to take over the school. This Central High School for boys opened September 10, 1928 with 260 students under the direction of five priests, Frs. D.L. Dillon, W.C. Sharpe, D.P. Donovan, E.L. Rush, and F.S. Ruth. Three scholastics, Messrs. S. Murphy, J. Embser, F. Burns, joined soon after to aid on teaching. In its first year there were thirty-three graduates. The other school that makes up C.C. was started by Fr. Connolly in 1915. The Brothers of Mary conducted Holy Name Institute on Belmont Avenue near Woodward until 1922. When the Brothers withdrew, Fr. Connolly asked the Basilians to take charge. Frs. E.L. Rush, J.H. Whelan, J.W. Embser, Messrs. D'lemer and French stepped in. In 1934, Catholic Central needed a new sight to accomodate its growing student body. Fr. Connolly suggested the two schools unite. C.C. joined Holy Name Institute and moved to Belmont Avenue. Fr. Whelan became the principle of the 350 students making up Catholic Central High School. Since then C.C. has grown enormously and has changed sights several times, but it continues to develop better young men today to be better leaders of tomorrow.

C.C.'s organizations grew greatly during the 1930's. These organizations contributed to the schools spirit and development significantly. Football, Baseball, and Basketball started to allow students to compete athletically. Although the teams got off to a rocky start, they soon developed into the strong teams C.C. is renown for. In addition to the beginning of the athletic programs, many other key organizations were started. The band, which plays an important part in C.C.'s spirit, premiered in the spring of 1937. In that same year, seven boys and a priest organized a mimeographed sheet which become known as the Spectrum. To further organize and unite the student body, the Student Council was started in 1938. It quickly started several school functions for the student body such as dances, the Camera Club, and the Stamp Club. The Shamrock yearbook began to mark the events and feelings of the year in 1937. All these organizations aided in helping C.C. grow as a school.

The Boys Bowl, the most widely known and honored CC tradition, dates back to 1944. This football classic started through the efforts of Catholic Central's Fr. Martin and Boystowns' Fr. Flannigan. On October 22, 1944, 43,539 fans at Briggs Stadium witnessed a hard fought battle between the Cowboys and the Shamrocks of CC. This game today is played with the same spirit, intensity, and support as it was in 1944. To encourage more spirit and school unity, the Monogram Club was started in 1945. Father and Son bowling also has its roots in the 1940s. To acknowledge the accomplishments of students who excelled academically the Gabriel Richard club started. Amidst the notable beginnings of part of C.C.'s history, the priests continued to impress students with the values that they would need to cope and deal with the world in strife that they were about to face.

On September 17, 1951, Catholic Central opened school, with 800 students at a new location. To accomodate its growing student body and provide the facilities necessary for a high school, CC built a new school on West Outer Drive and Hubbell. The change in location didn't affect the school's spirit and excellence, proving that CC is more than a building. It is the people, tradition and spirit that makes CC as great as it is. To honor students who best exemplify the ideal CC student both athletically and academically, the Whelan trophy was originated in 1950. The 1950's also saw the beginning of the Lumen Club which is now known as the Science club. The Glee club was started for musically talented students in 1953. The athletic department expanded its program by adding a Wrestling team. To spread the news about CC's success and tradition the Publicity Staff started in 1952.

Students during the 1960's sought to expand their horizons while living up to the school's motto. The National Honor Society started in 1965 to recognize students who best live up to CC's motto. NHS members shared their God given gifts with others through tutoring and the annual food drive. French and German were added to Latin classes so students could explore the cultures of other countries. The Chess club, Debating club, Film-study club, were added to the numerous after school clubs in 1960. Students could also join the newly formed Ski team and Swimming team. The band, in 1967, was honored greatly by being selected to represent the United States at the Montreal Expo. Catholic Central taught students to face the changing ideas they were to face in the world.

During the 1970's Catholic Central greatly expanded its academic programs. Many Advanced Placement courses were added for students who excelled academically. Students were also encouraged to take one of the new elective classes, which included Music, Art, Computers, Drafting, Economics, Business, Psychology, and Sociology. The Dillon award was started in 1970, and is awarded to the student with the highest grade point average over four years. Several Language clubs were started so students could carry what they learned in class to their lives. The linguistic department expanded by adding Spanish courses. The first weekend search retreat which provided time for Seniors to introspect themselves was in 1975. Many clubs including the Backgammon, Ski, Ping-Pong, Drama, and Mountain Climbing clubs were started to create more unity within the student body. To increase spirit before Boys Bowl, Armageddon Day was started in 1976. In 1978, CC moved once again. The current location on Breakfast Drive provided more room for the growing student body.

The current decade contains the same spirit, unity, and traditions that made Catholic Central a cut above the rest, Catholic Central offers a wide range of athletic teams and extracurricular clubs for students to join. Although these sports teams have had great seasons and the students excell academically, C.C. is envied for and proud of the unyielding spirit that every student in the past and present has displayed. Many priests, teachers and students have passed through the halls of C.C. over the past sixty years, each adding their own bit to the tradition and history of this unrivaled institution. We can only hope that in future years the students will respect the history and traditions of C.C. past and current decade as much as we do . . .

Theology

Educating young men in the Catholic tradition is the purpose for Catholic Central's existence, and the theology courses taught here try to bring these students into a closer realization of their faith. But theology is more than a class at C.C.; it is one of the reasons behind the founding of our school.

Our theology classes are also a part of what makes Catholic Central different from other schools, and is the purpose of continuing our sixty year tradition of excellence. This tradition is continued through the guidance of Fr. Paramao, the head of the department, and through the work of Mr. Clark, Fr. Clemens, Mr. Costley, Mr. DeBrincat, Fr. Donoher, Mr. Kavanaugh, and Fr. Moffatt the instructors. But without this tradition at Catholic Central we could not be a cut above.

English

How does the English Department enlighten every student who graduates from this institution? Let us count the ways: first, there is the curriculum which comprises such courses as Creative Writing and Humanities, as well as the standard grammar and literature classes. Then there is the Department's whole staff, whose efforts help to stir an interest and increase one's knowledge of our language and its many works of expression. Included in this force, headed by Mr. DuFourc, are Mr. Chambo, Mr. Bean, Mr. Kessel, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Scheuermann, and Fr. McCarthy.

With this potent combination of text and workers, it is not surprising that C.C. graduates possess superior skills of English usage and a vast awareness of the language's literature.

Linguistics

Many students enroll in Catholic Central language classes expecting a simple course in grammar and snytax using the basic testbook. But the department proves itself to be a cut above by making extensive use of audio and video taping, foreign literature, and newly introduced computer programs thus enabling the students to participate more actively in the learning process. The usage of these materials is not solely limited to the grasp of the language but also offers a great deal of cultural experience which is strongly stressed by the department.

This year, with the addition of Honors French III, Honors Spanish II, and A.P. Spanish and A.P. French to the already strong courses, the department hopes to challenge the highly motivated, self-disciplined student and continue its rapid progress.

Mathematics

The Math Department has remained a cut above, a distinctly superior alternative to an average math program. From setting the foundation of mathematics in Algebra I, to direct preparation for the future in Pre-calculus or A.P. Calculus, the math department has provided all students with the opportunity to learn an essential subject for their future. The reason for the math department's continued excellence is the commitment to ensuring that each individual student understands the important concepts.

Teachers in the Math Department include: Mr. Alpiner, the head of the department; Mr. Talbot, Mrs. Macke, Mr. Beg, Fr. Ward, Mr. Schultz, Mrs. Blackmer, and Mrs. Krueger.

Science

The Science Department, headed by Mrs. Kathy Lafata, brings the wonders of nature into the classroom through lecture and the use of labs. In the Biology class, taught by Mr. Mark Gagnon, Mr. Alan Barker, and Ms. Royal Mancuso, the intricate organisms of the world around us are brought to life. Within Chemistry, explained by Mrs. Lafata, Mr. Barker, and Mrs. Dolores Krueger, and understanding of the reactions of different matter that surrounds us is given to the student. In the Physics room, occupied by Mrs. Lori Terkeurst and Mr. Jon Mayer, the effects of physical forces on different objects are exhibited.

In the teaching of these classes, the Science Department has proved itself worthy of praise. Students having had success in local science competitions indicate that the department is truly a cut above.

Social Sciences

The Social Studies Department is an important facet of a Catholic Central education. All students must take at least one year of American History, a semester of Civics, and at least one other semester of Social Studies.

The Department is headed by Mr. Garklicki, who teaches Civics and the two A.P. Courses - American and European History - which consistently score higher than average on the A.P. exams at the end of the year. The department also includes Mr. Weinberg, Mr. Kessel, Mr. Santello, and Mr. Magni, all of whom teach History; Mr. Eddy, who teaches Civics; and Mr. Rossi, who teaches Sociology and Psychology.

Computers

CC students keep pace with the expanding computer world by increasing their knowledge of the marvelous little machines through the several computer courses offered. Teachers Mr. Alpiner and Mrs. Blackmer instruct students on the finer points of programming in Basic, Cobol, Fortran, and Pascal. These four languages are run on an IBM PC network, a system which out shines most other school's computers. Dedicated students pains-takingly hammer out the bugs and glitches in their programs as they gain an understanding of computers and programming that will become so important in the future.

Business

The goal of the Business Department is to try to educate the students in their roles in the real world. The student learns everything from typing to tax breaks to help him in today's marketplace.

Mr. Salter, the department head, Mr. Fortune and Mr. Weinberg teach the business classes. About 400 students take some form of business class each year. This makes it an integral part of our curriculum, the "real world" facet of C.C.

Health And Physical Education

This years Health and Physical Education department, headed by Coach Tom Mach, is designed to develop well rounded students. By teaching students about their bodies and how it works, the Health and Physical Education department helps to improve student self-awareness and pride. By giving students the opportunity to develop not only in mind but also in body, the Phys-Ed department helps students become the best they can be.

Helping Coach Mach in this department are Coach Rodruiguez and Coach Magni.

Computers

CC students keep pace with the expanding computer world by increasing their knowledge of the marvelous little machines through the several computer courses offered. Teachers Mr. Alpiner and Mrs. Blackmer instruct students on the finer points of programming in Basic, Cobol, Fortran, and Pascal. These four languages are run on an IBM PC network, a system which out shines most other school's computers. Dedicated students pains-takingly hammer out the bugs and glitches in their programs as they gain an understanding of computers and programming that will become so important in the future.

Business

The goal of the Business Department is to try to educate the students in their roles in the real world. The student learns everything from typing to tax breaks to help him in today's marketplace.

Mr. Salter, the department head, Mr. Fortune and Mr. Weinberg teach the business classes. About 400 students take some form of business class each year. This makes it an integral part of our curriculum, the "real world" facet of C.C.

Health And Physical Education

This years Health and Physical Education department, headed by Coach Tom Mach, is designed to develop well rounded students. By teaching students about their bodies and how it works, the Health and Physical Education department helps to improve student self-awareness and pride. By giving students the opportunity to develop not only in mind but also in body, the Phys-Ed department helps students become the best they can be.

Helping Coach Mach in this department are Coach Rodruiguez and Coach Magni.

Art

Under the direction of Mr. Nesbitt, the Head of the Art Department, along with Mr. Clark and Mr. Maddick, the art program attempts to mold the minds and the creative juices of the art students into a shining pillar of artistic achievement. Using years of experience and artistic skill, the Art Department has assured that the creative flame will remain burning for years to come.

Band

Who has attended the most Catholic Central football games in its 60 year history? Some may say Fr. Donoher or maybe Fr. Clemens, but the true answer to this question is the C.C. Band.

The 1987-88 Band, under the direction of Mr. Greg Normandin, is led by the senior duo of, drum-major, Deane Aikens and their year's Band President, Mark Lemon. Whether it's arousing our spirits at a football game, or entertaining us at the holidays these two get the job done.

This year's band fulfilled many high expectations through their continued creativity, highlighted by a not soon to be forgotten half-time show for the Boy's Bowl, which included the likes of James Bond (played by Deane) and a powerful solo by the drum line.

Men's Glee Club

This year's Men's Glee Club have done a great deal of work to get where they are. Under the direction of Father Joseph Moffatt, they have fulfilled their goals, Performing well at MSVA competition, several private parties, Mercy's Jams-n-Jeans, and the Christmas and Spring Concerts, among others. Father was assisted by choir council members Mark Culley, Cleve Gorsuch, Chris McDonald, and Dan Vukmirovich. Still a young group, a promising future is ahead for them.

Assemblies

This year's assemblies were a source of spirit and enthusiasm for all students. From the Hand cheer to the Homecoming Court the assemblies were a rousing success. The band kept the mood positive by playing with great energy and vivacity. The seniors came up with a new and exciting Senior cheer, one you can even understand the words to. The Boy's Bowl assembly was a cut above the regular assemblies, with Mark Messner and the court. The return of the ice fishing team was the highlight of the skit season. Channel 7 even showed up to film the assembly before the state championship football game. This year's assemblies continued the tradition of strong school spirit at C.C.

Class Days

This year as an alternative to the traditional Armageddon Day games, there were class days. Each class had a Friday afternoon off from school to enjoy various planned and un-planned activities. Football, softball, the tug of war, and the mud obstacle made for very fun and exciting afternoon had by each class. Class days were a new twist that worked out very well and a good time was had by all.

Boy's Bowl

The 1987 Boys Bowl weekend will be long remembered by all. The mural and the assembly were classics. Speeches by Rose Bowl M.V.P. Mark Messner, Coach Tom Mach, News-anchor Fred McLeod, and Homecoming Queen Lynne Elliot motivated the players. The bon-fire, the parade, and the Homecoming Dance were all a success due to the hard work of the Student Council and Mother's Club. The game itself was the best of all, as C.C. beat Rice in double-overtime, 10-7, for the third straight Boy's Bowl victory.

Parade

A C.C. tradition was re-awakened for this year's Boy's Bowl. For the first time in many years C.C. students were building floats and planning a parade route. Many long hours of hard work went into reviving the tradition and it paid off. The parade was one of the highlights of Boy's Bowl weekend. The floats had a few flaws because of the inexperience of the builders, but overall they turned out very well. The seniors led the way with a very "lifelike" float, followed by the juniors, who had another award winning float as well. The Parade was a source of fun for all involved and a tradition worth reviving.

Dances

For most C.C. students this year, dances meant a good time. A dance was a time you looked forward to when you could meet girls, spend time with ones you had already met or slam into some of your friends.

The dances, which were held in the cafetorium, and were put on by the Student Council and the Senior Class. With a variety of themes and music, dances could be enjoyed by all. They transformed C.C. into a co-ed school for one night a month, nobody could complain.

Masses And Retreats

Throughout the year, the spirit of the Catholic Central student is enhanced by his attendance at the school's masses and retreats. Masses, usually centered around a certain feast day or holiday, give the whole student body the opportunity to receive Christ together. Through the mass, the students become closer to God and each other. In the beginning of November, most students attended a retreat at C.C. Different priests, experienced with giving retreats, were brought in to bring Jesus into our hearts and to help us understand how to communicate with Christ.

At Catholic Central, we do not only teach our minds but we also teach our souls. The masses and retreat allow our souls to learn what our minds can not. This factor makes C.C., a cut above the rest.

Father & Son Field Day

The C.C. Dad's Club put on the third straight successful Father-Son Field Day this year. The day started with a mass, and then the Dad's Club let the games begin. Jarts, softball, bocci ball, free throw shooting, the three-legged race, the water balloon toss, and the tug-o-war kept everyone busy. But when it was time to relax, corn-on-the- cob, hot dogs, and beverages were ready. The day was a fun day of togetherness for the C.C. family.

Christmas Concert

When most people think of Christmas time at Catholic Central, they think of C.C.'s annual Christmas Concert. Again this year, parents and students alike walked away with a more joyous feeling for the Christmas season. The Christmas concert was not only Mr. Normandin's band, but also the glee club, and a smaller version of the band; the stage band. The band played their usual classics as "Sleigh Ride," and "Carol of The Drums," and the choir even started a new tradition of a barbershop quartet, the 'Gentleman Four', made up of Mark Copland, Cleve Gorsuch, Dan Vukmirovich, and Chris McDonald. The Christmas concert always brings a healthy spirit for the students and parents of Catholic Central and kicks off the Holiday season on a happy note.

Drive

The C.C. Student Educational Fund Drive was a great success this year, tallying $124,300. At first, the prospects for free days looked dim. But the Freshman class came up big at the end, setting a new Freshman record. Helping the Frosh make up for the deficient sophomores were the seniors.

The theme of the Drive was the Olympics. The opening ceremonies were outstanding; each homeroom's representative wore a toga and carried his country's flag. The torch was lit, and the students sold their way to eight free days.

National Honor Society

The Catholic Central chapter of the National Honor Society is definitely a cut above the rest. All members must be an upper-classman, have a 3.4 GPA, and show the four characteristics of a N.H.S. member: Scholarship, Character, Leadership, and Service.

The activities of the 124 member society are guided by Mr. Ken Anderson. They range from the canned food drive to tutoring to tour guides at the C.C. Open House.

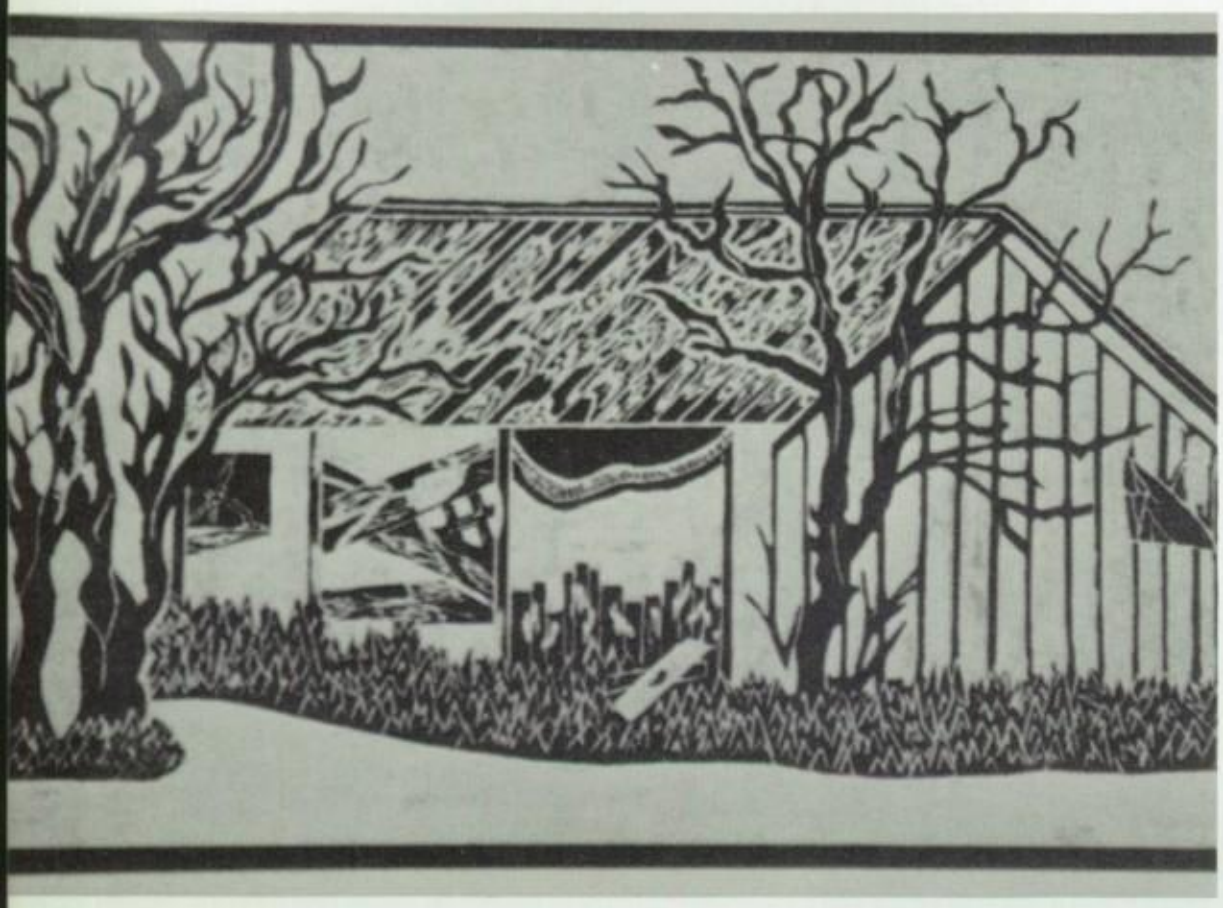
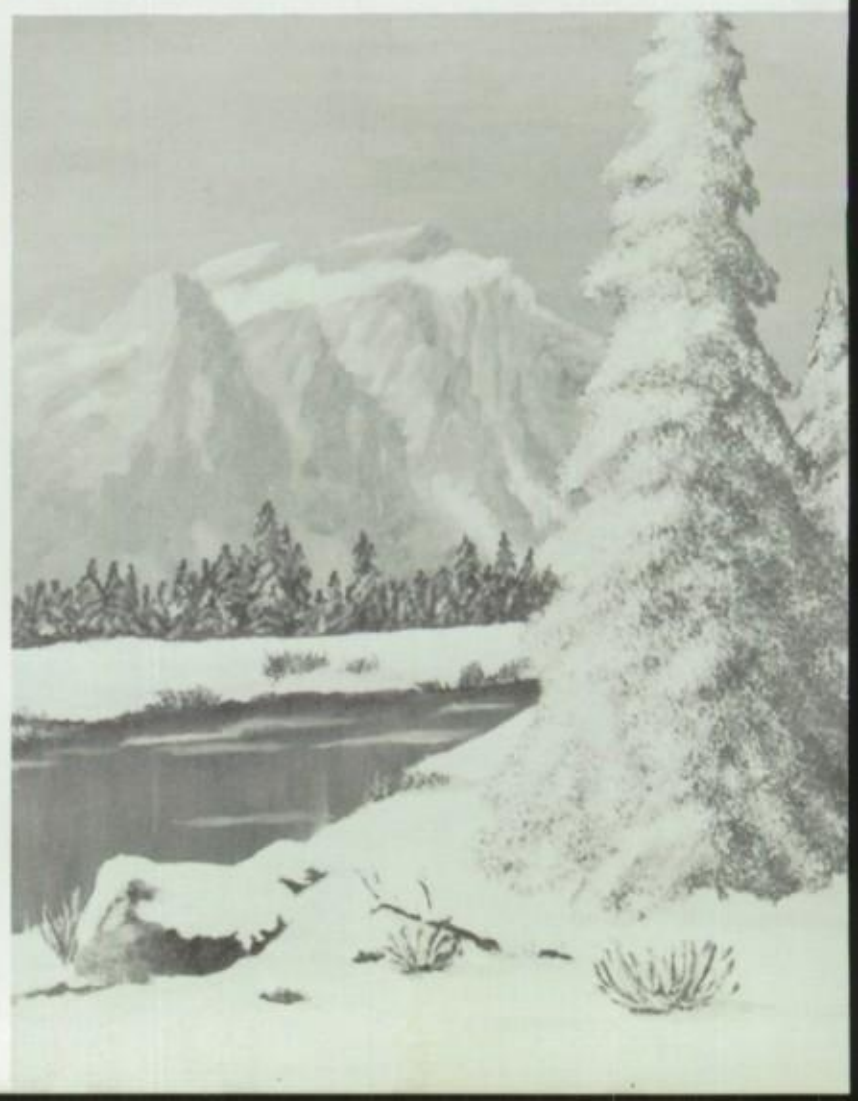
National Merit

The true quality of C.C. academic programs is demonstrated by the many National Merit Semifinalist that C.C. has each year. This year is no exception. Seven students, John Buckley, James Burr, Robert Gaines, Matthew Hepburn, Stephen Phillips, Brian Raney, and Dan Sullivan qualified this year. These students represent the top one half percent of the over one million students who took the PSAT in October 1986. C.C. also had nine commended students. This excellent record reflects the high calibre of C.C. students, faculty, and administration.

Art Awards





Quiz Bowl

A little known, but highly successful team at C.C. is the Quiz Bowl team. It is a group of sharp and quick-witted young men, coached by Mr. Weinberg.

The object in competition is to answer correctly as many questions as possible, for points and to earn more points than your opponent. The Quiz Bowl had an excellent season in only their second year and they are looking to win States, Nationals, and the entire free world plus some Eastern bloc nations next year under General Weinburg.

Student Council

The 1987-88 Student Council consisting of Mike Sullivan, Chris Hojnicki, and Kevin Jankowski promoted student participation and school spirit. Dances, Homecoming, the Road Rally, and the revival of the Bon Fire and Class floats, and many others, were all projects that the student council put together. The Student Council also put together some very fine assemblies through the year and organized the drive festivities. This dedicated trio with the assistance of Fr. Andrews and class officers served the school well by making C.C. better more spirited place for students.

Class Officers

This year's class officers knew that a tough job was in store for them when they were elected to their respective offices. The officers worked hard to start a "New and Fiery Spirit" that could last beyond their terms of office. The Senior Class Officers created new ideas and set prime examples for their younger classmates to follow. The Junior Class matured under its leaders to become an innovative and promising class to look forward to in the future. The Sophomore Class Officers brought their class together for the first time and helped make the ideas work with their support and togetherness.

Monogram Club

The few, the proud, the varsity letter winners. That's what the Monogram club consists of, all junior and senior varsity letter winners. The Monogram Club has the responsibility of representing Catholic Central at special events. Besides representing C.C. they have the task of firing up the students at athletic events. The Monogram Club leads cheers and encourages enthusiasm among the students, the key to building spirit.

Drama Club

Under the benevolent rule of Fr. Joe Moffatt, the 1987-88 Drama Club once again provided a useful outlet for the intense theatrical passions locked inside the bodies of Catholic Central's potential thespians. The Drama Club performed two plays this year, Herman Wouk's court-room drama The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial in the fall and the Neil Simon comedy Barefoot in the Park in the spring. Fr. Moffatt was helped in his successful endeavors to produce quality theatrical productions by his trusty assistant, Stage Manager D.J. "Reich Marshall" Bodnar.

Bridge Club

Some members of the C.C. student body meet every Thursday to sharpen their skills in the difficult game of Bridge. These dedicated few, moderated by Mr. Gentz. make up the Bridge Club. New members learn the basics and rules of the game while the veterans of the club fine tune their playing skills, They then utilize these newly refined skills to be more effective at the tournaments which many of the members compete. This year's club, with its bright members, promises to do well.

No one was safe when the senior class, and a few members of the junior class set out for the Photo Road Rally from the cafetorium one Friday night. They were in the barns; fire stations; on front porches; in kitchens; elevators; restaurants; shopping malls; telephone booths; and ice cream parlors.

Everyone got in on the act, from students to teachers, from parents to local pastors. This was an evening that not only was to be repeated, but also to be remembered, for a long time.

These pictures are just a few of the very choice moments of the evening. I hope you enjoy them as much as we did getting them.

Gaming Club

The Catholic Central Gaming Club is a great opportunity for members to match wits in some of today's most popular games. This is the eighth year of the Gaming Club. Lead by their president John Broadley and their moderator Mr. Clark, they are conquering new worlds every week. Two of the favorite games were conquest of the Empire and Axis and Allies. A favorite club saying is "Ludimus, Ergo Sumus" which means "We play, therefore we are."

Science Club

This year's Science Club is certainly on the move with new moderator, Alan Barker. Junior Jeff Marcey is this year's president along with Stan Abraham, Vice-President, and Sean Sant, treasurer. During the year, they explored the Cranbrook Science Center, University of Michigan Medical Center, Ford-Wixom assembly plant, the Northville Crime Lab, and their final trip to Chicago. They also are the heart of C.C.'s Science Olympiad team where they create projects to compete against other schools. This year's was held at U of M Dearborn.

This year's Science Club will show that C.C. is a cut above the rest not only in athletics, but also in their academic clubs as well.

Spectrum

The 1987-1988 Spectrum was the responsibility of dual editors-in-chief Perry Pinto and Ajay Rao, who with the assistance of Fr. A.J. McCarthy coerced flocks of young aspiring journalists to print all the news that's fit to print. This year's Spectrum underwent several transformations, from a new masthead to the inclusion of guest columnists. Whether the cover story was Boys' Bowl or C.C. boys' Skoal, Ajay and the Pint served up articles hot off the presses, full of incisive reporting and well-honed craftsmanship. Rumor has it that the staff is doing its job so well that none of them will ever be allowed to graduate, lest we lose some of the primary defenders of our freedom of speech.

Shamrock

The 1988 Shamrock staff attempted to capture the true spirit of "Our Diamond year." The 60th anniversary of the school put a lot of extra pressure on the staff. When the deadlines neared, Mr. DeBrincat went on retreat, Dan Sullivan wrestled, Dan Sharkey slept, Scott Worth was nowhere to be found, and Jody Sakstrup watched "Late Night with David Letterman" reruns. After the deadline, Editors crawled out of the woodwork to call parents for pictures, and ask underclassmen how the J.V. LaCrosse team did last year.

The staff did do a lot of award winning layouts, and Dan Sullivan editied over 100 stories written by next to illiterate copy writers. Dan Sharkey finally caught a ride home with Najera, too. So there was quite a bit accomplished by this staff. The only real regret is that Don Moll and Brian Allen were lost in September and never found.

Debate

C.C. teams always set their goals high. The Debate Team is no exception. C.C. has always been highly ranked nationally, and this year's team hopes to improve on past success. The team, lead by captains Matt Hepburn, Jerry Gallagher, and Omar Guevara, participate in many well known tournaments across the nation. The debaters discuss many subjects but this year's team did very well and next year's team promises to be even better with many skilled juniors returning to give the team the experience it needs.

Sign Painting

In every successful assembly, signs are an important part. This year, Mr. Nesbitt led the sign-painting crew. Every week, assembly or not, signs would be up in the hallways to raise the spirit level at C.C. The climax of the sign-painting year was the Senior all-night Boys Bowl sign painting bash. The entire school was loaded with signs, especially every square inch of the gym walls. Sign painting provided the extra push to have a great athletic year.

Foreign Exchange

After recovering from their stay in France last summer, the participants in the French Foreign Exchange fortified their homes to receive the students from Annonay. Fr. Wheeler and the families introduced them to the diversities of American life. They visited malls and local distractions, lived in houses with screens on the windows, and took hot showers everyday.

Science Olympiad

Just as the U.S., the U.S.S.R., Great Britain, Germany, Italy and countless other countries are competing in the Olympics this year, so is Catholic Central, that is, the Science Olympiad. Fifteen students from C.C. compete against other schools on their knowledge of various science topics. The topics vary greatly, ranging from Anantomy and Chemistry Lab to Orienteering rocks and fossils. There is a competition for almost every area of science.

This year's team promises to be a strong one with many medalists from last year returning to guide the team. Under the guidance of Mr. Gagnon and Mr. Barker, team members mentally prepare for the big day by brushing up on their science skills. The Science Olympiad is a chance to have fun with science, and who knows — maybe they will learn something too.

Mom's & Dad's Clubs

The Mother's Club and Dad's Club at Catholic Central are more than just clubs to which every mother and father belong. They are an important part of life at C.C. They are in charge of several activities for both students and parents. The Mother's Club is headed by Elaine Dorocak, who directed the club through its many activities, such as the rummage sale, decorating the school for the Christmas Concert, the Mother-Son Mass, and this year's senior prom breakfast. The Dad's Club headed by Milt Dougas sponsors the Super Bowl Party, the Father-Son Breakfast, the Father-Son Field Day, and usher sporting events. Both of these groups contribute a great deal to making life at Catholic Central as special as it is.

Yet another facet of the precious stone of Catholic Central is Student Life. Catholic Central prides itself on developing the whole individual. In its endeavor to touch upon all realms, C.C. provides opportunity to reflect on the spiritual, participate in the social, and challenge the meta-physical through extra-curricular life.

Masses; Retreats; Dances; Assemblies; Sign-painting; Clubs and Quiz Bowls. C.C. never ceases to exceed in new areas while allowing students to become involved in not-so-ordinary activities.

Many facets within a facet best describe the life of a Catholic Central Student. Yet more reasons why C.C. remains 'A Cut Above'.

Varsity Football

The 1987 Catholic Central Football season was one of C.C.'s best ever. The team won the Central Division with a 5-0 league record, then won the Catholic League Championship in the Dome. The regular season was highlighted by a thrilling, double overtime, 10-7, Boys' Bowl victory. The "No mercy" defense held Rice scoreless in regulation. After both teams scored TDs in the first overtime, C.C. pounded on a fumble and immediately booted a field goal.

It was a classic game, but the team didn't stop there. After beating Dearborn Fordson, C.C. used its "Air Mach" offense to win the Regional Championship over Sterling Heights. Then, it was time for Boys Bowl II. C.C. triumphed over Brother Rice once again, 14-9, with 4 interceptions and a transcontinental touchdown.

In the state Championships game, C.C. lost to Ann Arbor Pioneer in a heartbreaker, 3-0. Yes, their goal was to win states, but everyone knows that the 1987 C.C. team was one of the best ever. The memories will never leave from this classic season.

J.V. Football

The 1987 J.V. Football squad had an excellent season under the direction of coach Dan Fortune and Al Chambo. The team was the runner up in the Catholic League with a 5-1 record. The team was filled with many talented players who will help the Varsity in the next two years to keep the C.C. Football tradition up.

Freshman Football

What do names like Alan Mitchel, Aaron Roberts, Dan Nash, and Mark Messner have in common? They are all names of men who learned of pride, intensity, and unity as keys to great football here at Catholic Central.

The 1987 Freshman Football Team took their first taste of these attitudes and ran with it. Working their way to an impressive 5-1 record, they upheld the long winning tradition of C.C. and earned their first stripes as Shamrocks.

Though none of these young men may turn out to be another Paul Rudzinski (Class of '74 who played for the Green Bay Packers) or their names may not be as recognizable as those above, it is guaranteed that their virtues learned here will remain apparent in everything they do.

Varsity Soccer

Determination describes the 1987 Varsity Soccer Team. Beginning in August, the dedicated members spent two and one-half hours per day conditioning and practicing was tough, but led by co-captains Rob Orsucci, Chris Moore and Jason Reis, they finished the season with a 10-6-1 mark, a record that did not accurately reflect the true talent of the team. The Shamrocks suffered a very controversial and heart-breaking loss in the second round of the state play-offs. Under the direction of Paul Scicluna, the boys played hard and proved once again, that the Shamrocks were a team to be reckoned with . . . and will be for years to come!

J.V. & Frosh Soccer

The J.V. and Frosh Soccer Teams both had fine seasons this year. The J.V.'s compiled a 9-2-1 record. The freshman team, handicapped by many frosh being on J.V., finished 6-6. Both teams had several standouts that look bright for the future.

Ski Team

Once again, the Catholic Central SkiTeam proved themselves to be a tough competitor. Under the guidance of Fr. John Wheeler, the Shamrocks compiled a record of 4-2 in dual meets and took two second place finishes and one 3rd place finish in giant slalom meets, with all league performance from Tim McDonald, Jeff Turnas, and Eric Meyer.

They worked long hours and displayed true C.C. spirit. They are a cut above the rest.

Track

The track team had another good year in the 1987 season. The team remained one of the best in the region. Excellent performances were given by Dominic Siwik and Jeff Fedewa in distance running and by Kevin Jankowski in Sprinting. Matt Fras on the discus and shot put, Brian Dugas and Chris Michalik in high jumping also had good years.

With the majority of the talent returning and a strong Freshmen team, Head coach Kevin Kavanaugh and assistants Tony Magni and Jeff Bean expect only good things in the seasons to come.

Swimming and Diving

The 1986-87 season was the final year of coaching the Catholic Central swim team for Mrs. Deloris Yeager. She was the founder of the C.C. swim program, and finally retired after coaching it for about a decade and a half.

It was also the best season to date in the history of the C.C. Swimming, with their highest finish ever in the State Meet against extremely tough competition. The team was led by Senior Co-Captains Alex Afsari and State-Champion John Kovach. Senior Dan Cetnar and Juniors John Teal and Matt Hepburn also had strong showings at States and good seasons.

Under their new coach, Chuck McClune, the "Mutant Fish" are looking forward to an even better season in 1987-88, with hope of placing in the top four in the State Meet. The team is captained by Seniors Matt Hepburn and John Teal. Other excellent performances should come from Seniors Bill Matthews and Jim Nietkievicz, Juniors Jim Kovach and Andy Jacobs, and a very promising freshman, Troy Shunate.

Varsity Basketball

The 1987-1988 Varsity Basketball Team, led by Coach Bernie Holowicki and co-captains Brian Dugas, Bill Vitti and Anthony Arrington had a thrilling season this year. They battled game in and game out in the Central Division, which is considered one of the toughest, if not the toughest league in the state. Highlighted by come-from-behind wins against DeLaSalle and Brother Rice, the season was both rewarding and challenging. The team, because of their hard work and never give up attitude, made this year a year to remember in Catholic Central Basketball.

J.V. B-Ball

This year's Junior Varsity basketball team showed once again that they are a source of future talent for the varsity team. Through their hard work and dedication they will one day fill the varsity ranks. Led by the coaching of Mike Lewis and Joe Chops this team showed that they had the skill to maintain C.C.'s tradition of excellence.

Frosh B-Ball

New head coach Leo Stebbins led the Frosh to a successful, promising season. In impressive victories over the likes of Rice and Borgess, the team displayed many bright spots. The main purpose of the team is to sharpen fundamentals, in order to compete on the state level in the coming years.

Varsity Wrestling

Awesome! That is about as close as you can come to describing this year's wrestling team. Many people say this was one of the finest teams in the state's history. The Shamrocks repeatedly punished opponents finishing with a perfect 13-0 record in dual meets. The Shamrocks then continued their reign over the Catholic League by setting a record for team points on the way to a title in the Catholic League tournament. This was the first year of a new format for the state tournament consisting of separate tournaments for the individual and team titles. In the individual tournament CC was led by senior Toby Heaton and junior Lee Krueger both of whom were state champs. Seniors Brendan Rock and Chris Lemanski finished strongly taking a second and fifth respectively. Juniors Matt Helm; second, and Chris Rodriguez; fourth, also did well. With team spirit kept high by senior co-captian Ted Rieple CC coasted to the team state title by thrashing every opponent they faced. With this impressive year the team has once again asserted that "We Are State Champs!"

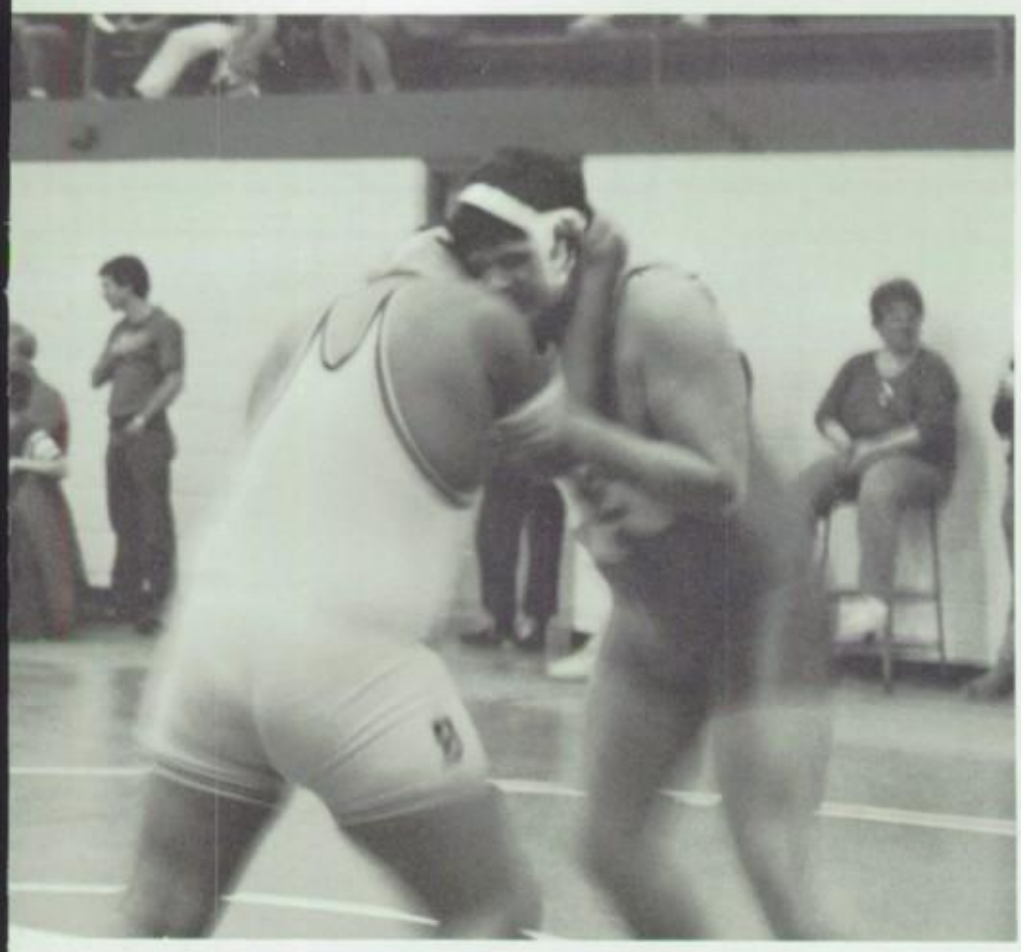
B-Varsity And Freshmen



This years Catholic Central J.V. wrestling team paralleled the success of the varsity. The J.V. was 7-0 in dual meet competition and placed well in the Highland Park, Allen Park, and Plymouth Salem tournaments. Derek DiManno headed up the tough J.V.'s with an impressive 19-5 record. Another up and coming grappler is Mike Sherman who posted a 14-5 record. The team was rounded out by Brian Mea, Dennis Buda, Paul Bellfy and heavyweight, Mike Benson. The varsity is sure to be strong in the years to come with this crop of young wrestlers.

Varsity Hockey

This year's Varsity Hockey team is keeping up the tradition of great and exciting Hockey at Catholic Central. The team has been rated in the top few of Class A Hockey teams all season due to the remarkable leadership of senior captains Larry Bashara and Bill Baffy. Juniors Scott Locke and Jim Hubenschmidt provided for a very promising scoring attack while Jim Dietrich provided the outstanding goal tending that makes a complete Hockey team. Coming off of a great regular season, the team has their eye on the state championship in the State Tournament. All in all, a very successful season.

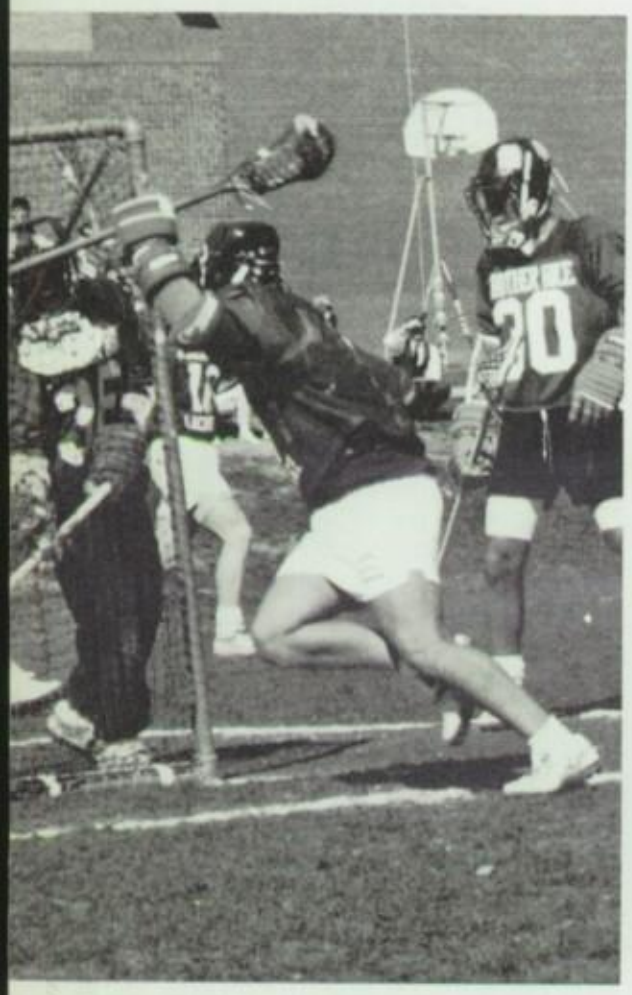
Varsity Lacrosse

The 1987 Varsity LaCrosse team finished with an impressive 11-7 record. They were under the command of second year head coach John Van Antwerp who has brought with him a second consecutive winning season. The team was young and they used that to their advantage by defeating some of the teams in the league. They captured the B-Division Midwest title while back at home in the MSLA they finished third overall.



The offense was led by All-Midwest, All-State attack man Darren Murray and an explosive All-Stater Todd Sinelli. Strong Mid-field was one of the reasons they finished with a winning record. All-Staters Stan Zajdel and Chris Hojnicki anchored that strong Mid-field. The defense lived up to it's strong tradition of pressure "D" and hard-hitting mainly because of All-Midwest, All-State player, Dan Rice.

Last year's varsity tennis team was the best C.C. has ever seen. Even though they finished 3rd in the state, the talent exhibited was incredible. This same team, made of eight seniors, has finished 2nd, 1st, and 1st in the past three years. With the graduation of the bulk of the team, many think this year's team won't be very good. This year's team will be led by three time state champion Steve Campbell. Steve will attempt a fourth at the number one singles spot this season. The eight spots will be filled by five other seniors, two juniors and a sophomore. Even though this year's team will be called underdogs throughout the season, they will only be called one thing at the end: the 1988 State Champions.

Baseball-State Champs

Under direction of head coach John Salter and assistant Al Moran, the 1987 varsity baseball team finished with a 26-8 record en route to capturing the State Championship. Led by seniors Greg Haeger, Doug Martin, Joe Mackiewicz, and sophomore Leo Hutchinson, the pitching staff baffled hitters all season with a team earned run average of 2.10. Senior Vince Morin and junior Kevin Rogers were a quick double-play combination, while seniors Bob Malleck, Mike Czarnota, and Gil Garcia were steady in the outfield. Juniors Matt Cannon, Mike Dorocak, and John Gotts provided timely hitting. Seniors Ed Reed, Brian Wisniewski, junior Larry Bsharah, and sophomore Chris Johnston gave the team clutch play.

C.C. defeated Westland John Glenn 9-8 at Districts, Livonia Franklin 4-2 at Regionals, and then went on to punish Lansing Everett 12-2 in the State Semi-Finals. The Shamrocks won the state final game by beating Midland Dow 4-3 in nine innings, in what many observers felt was one of the best high school baseball games ever played. Definitely a season to remember!

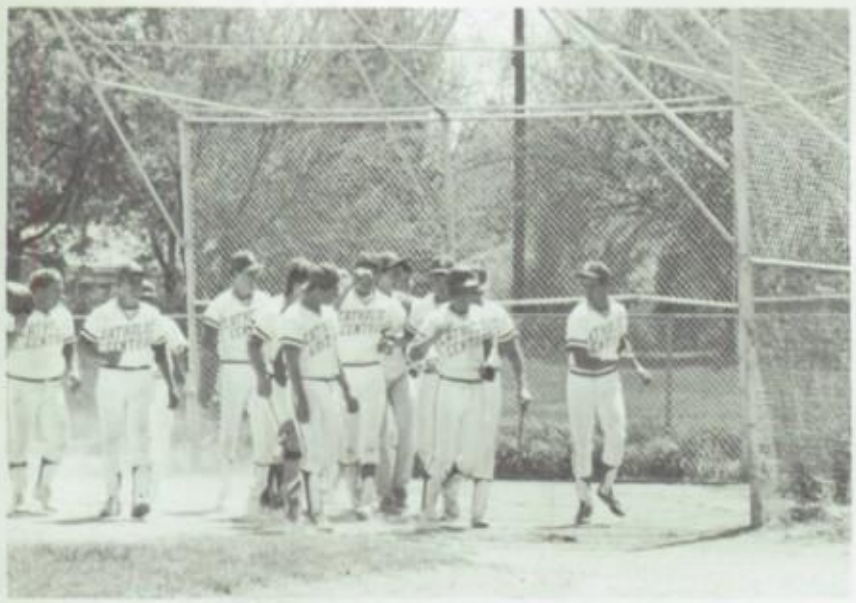
J.V. And Frosh Baseball



The Junior Varsity and Freshmen Baseball coaches have the thankless job of building excellent baseball teams without getting much recognition. Freshmen Coach Bill Liss and Junior Varsity Coaches Chuck Baughmean and Joe Chops layed the foundation for some great baseball teams, particularly the 1987 State Championship team. Considering the success they have had with their own teams in the '87 season, it looks like they are continuing the tradition.

Golf

The golf team is a rarely supported, often unnoticed, group of young men who devote many hours to the perfection of their sport. Their summer's are spent mostly on the courses, individually working on their very precise skill. The 1987 Varsity Golf Team was led by Coach Jeff Bean. With his leadership, the golf team had another strong season with a 9-2 record, including an impressive win over eventual state champs, Brother Rice. The team was led by seniors Mike Soenen and Chris Hojnicki and was supported by Mike Chrichton, Mark Stephens, Scott Krueger, Bill Piercy, and Mark Johnson. This young team finished well in 1987, and has gained the experience needed for an outstanding season in 1988.

Cross-Country

Led by coach Tony Magni, the 1987 Cross Country team had a successful season once again.

Through the season, the harriers enjoyed four invitational victories and a Catholic League record of 4-1. The team rounded out the season with a Regional Championship and a fourth place finish at the state meet.

The team was led by the All-Catholic varsity consisting of seniors Greg Boller, Dominic Siwik, Brad Boddy, juniors Jeff Fedewa and Kyle Richard, and sophomores Mike Sheridan and Dave Galvin. The varsity had a strong backing of Scott Gondek, Chris Lutz, Dan Sharkey, Chris Antczak, Bill Paison, Pat Quinn, Kris Slocum, and Jay Schemanske.

Intramurals

At C.C., for every varsity athlete there is a varsity wanna-be. For these second rate athletes, there are four intramural sports: Basketball, Hockey, Softball, and Football. The I.B.A. is headed by Mr. Tony Magni, and is the most established league. Over 100 Upperclassmen participate in the program annually. Mr. John Salter is in charge of the I.H.L., which plays in Redford Arena. The football and softball leagues were both established last year under the direction of Mr. Mark Gagnon and Mr. Barker.

STRATFORD FESTIVAL

The C.C. Cross Country Camp is one of the reasons C.C. is the state's best Cross Country team of the 1980's. The camp is held at the Pinery Provincial Park in Ontario, Canada. The team loads up the bus with enough tents, food, and clothes to live for 2 weeks.

The team runs over 200 miles at camp, so it is hard work. But the camp has many diversions that make the runners look forward to it. Mr. Tony Magni, the coach, organizes the Miniature Golf Tournament, the trip to the Stratford Theatre, and the Canoe Race. But the favorite things for the runners are camping 300 yards off the beach of Lake Huron, where they spend a lot of time during the day, and at night, going to Grand Bend.

This year's camp was a great success and it showed as the team went on to finish as Regional Champs and fourth in the state.

Editor's Letter

Congratulations! We made it. We have been looking forward to graduation since freshman year. Now that it is here, though, I feel a little bit sad. Now we have to go our separate ways and make something of ourselves. We had some of the best times of our lives, but that's it, the free ride is over, we have to move on, grow up, and take on more responsibilities. Our consolation is that these years were unforgettable. The memories of Drive time and Boy's Bowls. All of these things came together and made these last four years a time that will always be remembered.

This was the sixtieth year that Catholic Central has been in existence so we wanted to make this book something exceptional. The dual theme "A Cut Above" and "Multi-Faceted" were in co-relation with Our Diamond Year. Catholic Central and it's students and faculty have always excelled above other schools. In whatever we have concentrated on we have shown ourselves to be a step ahead of the rest. We are also Multi-talented. Students at C.C. are well-rounded individuals, not just athletes or bookworms. We have learned to reach and exceed our goals in all areas of life, becoming not only consummate students, but also mature and well-rounded individuals. This book is not just a memory for this year's senior class, it is a tribute to all of the people associated with Catholic Central.

I would like to extend a special thanks to a few of the people that put in an extra effort in order to produce this book. First the Managing Editor, Dan Sharkey. You were there countless hours helping me out. We missed a few parties, but we made those deadlines. We heard about the parties on Mondays, anyway. (You were fresh, Tender.) Next is Photo Editor, Scott Worth. We didn't have many Photographers and when it really counted Scott was there. Thanks alot Scott. Now we have Copy-Editor Jody Sakstrup. You did an incredible amount of typing and you were there whenever I asked you to be there. Thank you, I appreciate it. I would like to thank John Marion and Bob McGowan who put lot of time and effort into making the special anniversary section special. Thanks, fellas. Last, but not least, is our moderator Mike DeBrincat. He was always there to keep us on time and to lend a helping hand to cover us when we screwed up.

Although I didn't always agree with you I'm glad we got the chance to work together. Thanks alot Mr. D.!

Here it is. This is the yearbook staff's gift to you. Something we can give to a school and a group of people that have given us so much. It took alot of time and effort, but here it is, I hope you enjoy it. Thanks for all the good times!

Dan Sullivan

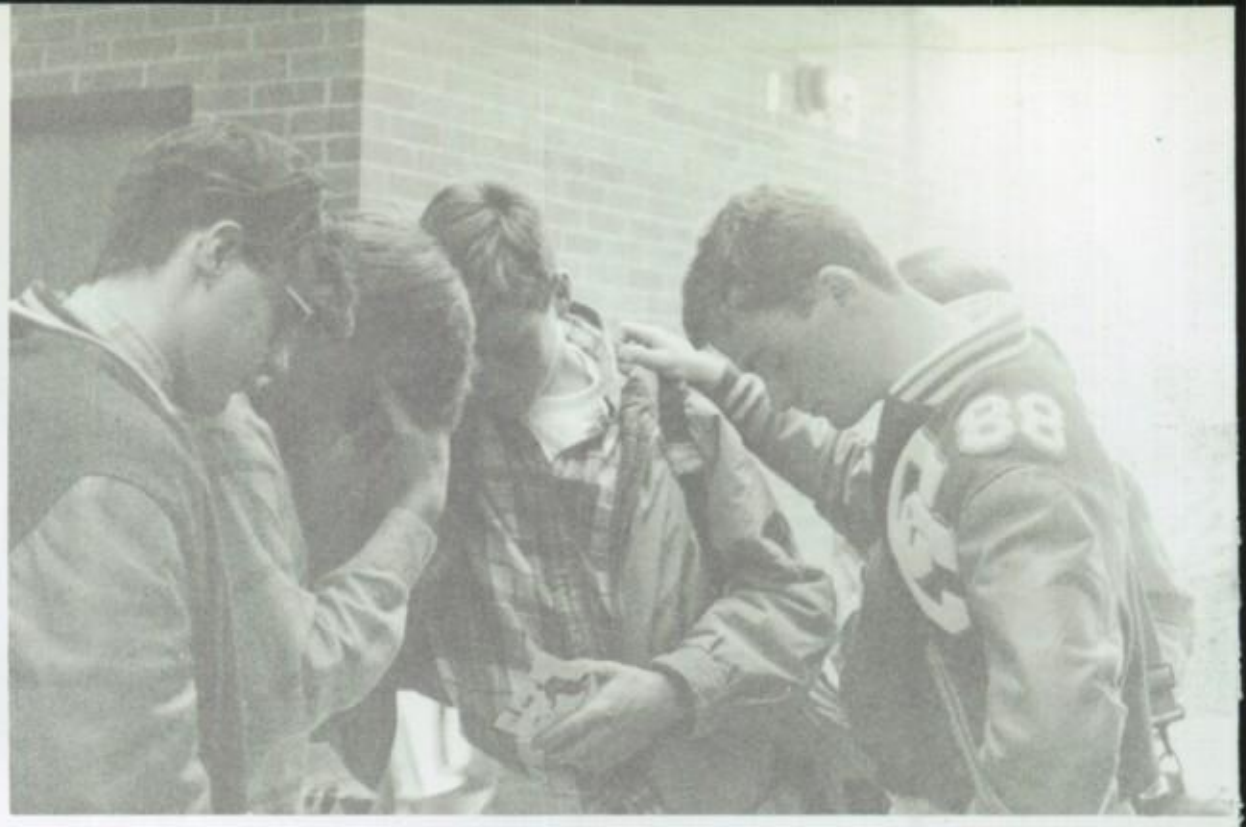
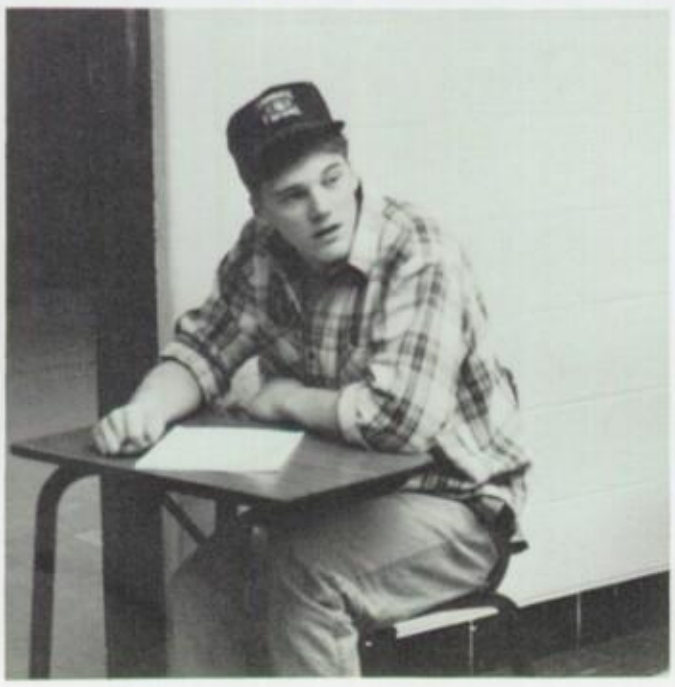
Late Night





Principal's Note

Dear Seniors:

Senior classes come and go. While each previous Senior class was unique in their own right and are missed, your class will also be missed and best remembered for reflecting an attitude of caring and concern which permeated everything you undertook. Your achievements in the academic, co-curricular, and extra-curricular areas far surpassed what was predicted or expected of your class. You excelled in everything to which you committed yourselves. You never settled for second best, and always strived to be the best. In reflecting over the past year, I can say with pride you set a standard of excellence which has made C C the envy of all the parochial, private and public schools in this area.

As has been mentioned often by the faculty, both publicly and privately, your cooperation, caring and concern about each other and the school provided the underclassmen with an example to be imitated in years to come; an example which will be difficult to surpass. You set a very positive tone for the school year, and helped sustain C C's deep sense of tradition in the truest sense of the word.

You adapted well to the challenges and changes you faced as Seniors, and never let these deter you from being one of the finest Senior classes to have passed through these hallowed halls. You always remained loyal to your goals, and were always in the forefront of recognizing and of challenging the underclassmen to strive for the excellence you knew they were capable of achieving.

As you leave us and begin your post secondary endeavors, it will be my prayer that the values of excellence and of goodness, discipline, and knowledge which you reflected in your lives as men of Catholic Central, will sustain you in whatever life presents you.

My personal thanks and appreciation to all of you for making this your Senior year and this school year as successful as it was. I am going to miss not having you around, and look forward to seeing you when you come back to visit us as alumni. The best of luck to you! Continue to make us proud of you.

May God bless and keep you always,

Dennis M. Andrews, C.S.B.
